Tentative City Budget For '46-47 Up $74,000

A $74,000 increase in the city's budget for the fiscal year 1946-47 and an increased tax levy of $140,000 was tentatively approved by the city council at its regular meeting last night. Objections to the budget, as submitted by City Manager A. V. Aronson will be heard at the next council meeting when final action on the new budget will be taken.

Last night the council also selected a housing commission, sold some property, acted on several building permits and property matters and heard three objections to the city's proposal to condemn certain property in the neighborhood of the junior high school, where the school eventually expects to construct an addition in the gymnasium which will house a new swimming pool.

Budget of $394,946
A budget of $394,946.49 was submitted and tentatively approved by the council for the next fiscal year. Most of the $74,232 increase over last year is absorbed by the recently adopted pension plan and salary raises for municipal employees which will cost about $51,000. The remainder of the budget boost is for several extra police officers and firemen, for a bigger recreation fund and for improved garbage service. The council discussed at great length last night the possibility of winter garbage collection and some are for and others are "agin" it, but decided to leave in the budget, for the time being at least, the added cost for that purpose and for a new truck for the public works department.

The $140,000 tax levy is up $20,000. Winter garbage collection service has been available for several years for those who want it, and are willing to pay for it and if an equitable rate system can be worked out, the city may adopt year around garbage pick-ups.

Regarding the objections to the abandonment of property near the junior high, the council tossed the matter into the lap of the school board by suggesting that that body talk with the three property owners, Ralph McGovern, Fred Malmstrom and Lester Johnson, who maintain that the value of their real estate would be considerably reduced by the extension of the school, and come to some agreement regarding possible sale of the property. It was implied that it would be far less expensive to settle the matter with the objecting property owners than it would be to change the present plans for the school's new gymnasium and swimming pool.

Council also tabled the bids received on three and a half acres of property adjacent to the Fence company of America, which the city had advertised for sale. Milton McGovern, an Escanaba resident, offered a high bid of $600 for the land but council argued that the $425 bid of Swan Johnson, local coal and ice dealer, warranted greater consideration as, it is understood, he has virtually completed a transaction involving the property with the fence company, an industry employing about 100 men, which needs the land for expansion.

McGovern proposes to use the land for industrial purposes also but declined to give any details at this time.

High bids on other property also advertised for sale recently by the city, which were accepted are: the Coleman Nee bid of $150 on a five acre tract adjacent to the municipal dumping ground; David A. Wolfgram's bid on lot 16, block 6, corner of North 16th street and 14th avenue.

Housing Commission
Mayor Marvin L. Coon's recommendations to the housing commission, which will deal with federal housing units (13 double unit Quonset huts) to be set up here, were accepted and approved with little argument. Named to the commission for one year was George McEwen, local FHA appraisal expert; for two years, Edward Moersch, banker and American Legion member; for three years, Arnold Alsten, labor representative; for four years, Juel Lee, industrial executive; for five years, Atty. John G. Erickson, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Council approved the request for extension of sanitary sewers on Ludington street west of 25th street at a cost of $840.82 or $70.07 per lot, with the understanding with Mrs. S. M. Matthews, owner of a number of the lots involved, that her property will not be assessed for five years and at the end of that time the city except those sold and the assessments will be paid on any which are purchased from Mrs. Matthews.

Dodge Zoning Ordinance
A special permit was given to Arsene J. Beauchamp and Sons, who propose to erect a dwelling and four tourist cabins near the intersection of Highway M-35 and Lake Shore Drive. Five property owners in the area had signed Beauchamp's petition, giving their consent to the proposal and the only objection came from an anonymous citizen who wrote the council a strong letter of disapproval. Beauchamp said his cabins would be clean and modern in all respects. Technically the area is a class A residential district and the council's action was in conflict with the zoning ordinance which has been sidestepped before.

The transfer of the tavern license of Edvin Milkovich, West Side Tavern, 322 Stephenson avenue, to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Berg, a former county resident, was approved by the council.

Council also assured Archie Wood, Veterans of Foreign Wars, that the V. of F. W. would have the services of the city band for one day of its convention here May 25 and 26. Wood said about 1,200 visitors would be here and asked for "a little donation," too, but the council let him down gently on that.

Five more lots the council decided to offer for sale are located near the Wickert greenhouses between 23rd and 25th streets. For three 40-foot lots the council asks a minimum price of $110 and for the two other 50-foot lots, $140.

Another request for a building permit which would conflict with the existing zoning ordinance, councilmen promised to look into at once. It is the request of Al Duganals, 1501 Washington avenue, who proposes to build a new grocery store near his present location and to use the store he now operates as an auto accessory shop.

Before adjourning the council adopted a resolution expressing its appreciation for the services of the late Ben Sparks, a member of a city appointed airport committee, and paying its respects to his memory.

BATTLE REVIVED OVER U. N. HOME

Security Council Takes Up Iranian Case Next Tuesday

New York, May 2 (AP)—Trygve Lie, secretary-general of the United Nations, had been asked to call the Security Council back into session next Tuesday, May 7, to take up the controversial Iranian case, a source within one of the delegations said today.

The council's resolution of April 4 provided that on May 6 it could ask new reports from Russia and Iran as to whether Russia had carried out her promise to withdraw all her troops from Iran.

A spokesman for one of the delegations, however, in disclosing that a session had been requested for May 7, said the deadline for Russian withdrawal from Iran did not expire until midnight May 6 and, for that reason, the delegates did not want a meeting before Tuesday.

The council has been in recess since last Thursday.

The battle over a permanent home for the United Nations is expected to be renewed when the nine-nation headquarters commission meets Tuesday at 11 a. m. (EDT) to prepare facts for a final decision by the general assembly in September.

The assembly at its London meeting approved location of the permanent United Nations site in the Westchester (N. Y.)-Fairfield (Conn.) area, but did not fix the exact site nor the size.

There has been considerable agitation since then to re-open the whole question.

Snuffy Smith Case Delayed Until June

Lansing, May 2 (AP)—A delay until June 21 of the fugitive warrant hearing in Washington, D. C., for Maynard H. (Snuffy) Smith of Caro, Congressional Medal of Honor winner, originally scheduled for May 7, was ordered by Governor Kelly today with the consent of Washtenaw County Prosecutor John W. Rae.

Smith was arrested in Washington for failure to provide for a minor child by an earlier marriage. He has been released on bond.

'Hair Of The Dog' Covers This Barfly

Leadville, Colo. (AP)—When Caesar, a big boxer dog owned by George Francis, drops into a tavern for a short beer, it causes no comment in Leadville. Caesar is one of the town's best-known barflies. He loves his suds and makes the rounds regularly, looking for a live one who'll set the drinks. Once Caesar imbued too freely and was jailed for drunkenness. As punishment, Francis chained him up. But the next morning Caesar's hang-over was too much for him. He appeared at the bars, chain and all.

Hurling Arm Swells Up For Newhouser

Boston, May 2 (AP)—Hal Newhouser, Detroit's ace lefthander, who complained of a swelling in his hurling arm after losing his first game in four starts Tuesday, underwent X-ray examination today at Lahey Clinic.

The hospital was unable to say tonight what the examination disclosed, but Newhouser left later with the Tigers for New York.

Derby Town Hopes Rain Will Desist; Track Mostly Goo

BY SID FEDER
Louisville, Ky., May 2 (AP)—Like an anxious father, Derbytown was hoping for a little sun today—but after four days of crying clouds and nothing in sight to stop the tears, Saturday's Run for the Roses was almost certain to be through the goo in one form or another.

Only if the sun cooked up a real brawl between now and post-time at 5:15 p. m. (CDT) Saturday did it seem even possible for the Churchill Downs bowl of chocolate pudding to become fast. And with that prospect, most of the trainers of the 16 virtually definite starters now were even hoping for the skies to keep right on weeping, so that a drying track would not leave the footing "putty" to grab at the horses' feet.

There was still a 17th possible starter, the Canadian swiftie, Wee Admiral, but he doesn't do so good in rubber boots and Trainer Art Brent is definite about not starting him if it comes up any kind of mud, as now appears likely.

While all this didn't make it any more comfortable for the assembled hordes—especially those looking for a roof and a bed in loaded Louisville, and who would

Smith was arrested in Washington for failure to provide for a minor child by an earlier marriage. He has been released on bond.

With nightfall, the gun battle could be plainly seen from the mainland. Scores of persons watched the flashes of gunfire from the hills of San Francisco. A brush fire, ignited by tracer bullets, lent further drama to the scene.

Law enforcement officers who have been to the island said that even though the prisoners might have complete control of the situation inside the cellhouse, it would be impossible for them to get outside.

"To come out of the main cellhouse and get into the open," said one officer, "you have to approach a steel door with a steel plate over the keyhole. You can't put a key in the lock even if you have one unless the armorer, who is outside in a cage, is convinced everything is all right."

Warmup Improves Trout Prospects

Lansing, May 2. (AP)—If the weather continues warm, trout fishing should be good throughout Michigan for the week-end, the state conservation department reported in its weekly survey of fishing prospects today.

Streams generally are low and clear, the department reported, but cold weather has been reducing the catch. Better results were being obtained in trout lakes with natural bait, the department said.

Prospects are good for the coming week-end in the western end of the Upper Peninsula. Fair to good fishing has been reported in currence of an old knee injury April 23. Since that time the Tigers have been under the charge of Coach Frank Shellenback.

Iron county and walleied pike are being taken in Victoria Basin and the West Branch of the Ontonagon and on the Michigamme River.

Trout fishing is generally fair in the southwestern counties with good results on Bear and Honey Creeks in Kent county.

PETER KOSTER DIES SUDDENLY

Brief Illness Fatal To Retired Butcher And Lover Of Outdoors

Death came suddenly at 12:30 p. m. Thursday to claim Peter Koster, 64, of 417 South Ninth street, who was stricken at his home with a fatal attack of acute gastritis.

Mr. Koster was born July 30, 1881, at Befort, Luxembourg, Europe, where he learned the butcher business and became versed in both the German and French languages. He came to Escanaba 38 years ago, and was married here, his bride-to-be coming from France to join him after he established residence in Escanaba.

For over 20 years he operated Koster's market on Stephenson avenue, retiring eight years ago to turn the business over to his sons. He was an ardent hunter, fisherman, and lover of the outdoors, and his retirement gave him greater opportunity to pursue these favorite hobbies. He maintained a hunting camp in the popular deer country on Chippeny creek, which won him the nickname, among friends of "Chippeny Peter," and in recent years he established a lodge on the bay near Kipling where he lived during the summer months to enjoy his sport of fishing. As a sportsman and a merchant he won a wide acquaintance in the district, and his genial nature and ready wit drew to him a great circle of loyal friends. He was a member of Escanaba Lodge 354, B. P. O. Elks, and was affiliated with St. Joseph's church.

Surviving are his widow, three sons, Peter and Victor of Escanaba and George, serving with the U. S. army in Shanghai, China, also six grandchildren.

The body will lie in state at the Alto funeral home beginning Saturday evening, and services will be held Monday at 9 a. m. at St. Joseph's church, with burial in St. Joseph's cemetery.

The boats operate on Eastern Standard Time.

QUERIES FROM VETS

Q. Can I receive compensation and insurance benefits at the same time?

A. There is no prohibition against the receipt of compensation and insurance benefits at the same time.

Q. Does failure to report for a physical examination affect my payments of compensation?

A. Yes. Upon failure to report for examination without adequate reason, an award of disability compensation or pension is suspended. Where the veteran subsequently reports for physical examination, retroactive payments over the intervening period may be precluded unless the evidence clearly establishes that the disability in fact existed to a compensable degree during such period.

Q. Is a former member of the United States Coast Guard Temporary Reserve entitled to pension benefits?

A. No. Claims for disease or injury suffered in such service should be filed with the United States Employees' Compensation Commission.

Q. I am a World War I veteran and have been retired from my job because of disability not due to my war service. Can I also receive a pension from the Veterans Administration? Would the latter be affected by the pension received from my job?

A. Receipt of wages paid to a veteran by reason of retirement from private employment in no way affects disability compensation and does not affect pension unless the amount thereof is in excess of the limit prescribed under Regulation 1 (a), Part III. ($1,000 for a single person and $2,500 for a married person or one having children).

Dr. B. Johnson To Visit Mother This Summer In Sweden

Dr. Birger Johnson, 312 South 12th street, has obtained a passport for a trip to Sweden to visit his aged mother.

Mrs. Andrew Johnson, formerly of Escanaba, and other members of the family. He will return here in September.

Dr. Johnson will leave Escanaba on May 15 and will sail from New York City on May 15 aboard the S. S. Drottningholm. His 78-year-old mother lives in Fargeland, central Sweden. He also will visit three brothers and three sisters. His father died a year ago.

Dr. Johnson was born in Escanaba, but a few years later, in 1901, his father took the family to Sweden to live. Dr. Johnson returned to this country in 1920. He went back to Sweden for a visit in 1936.

Coal Crisis Grows

THE coal strike is into its second month now with no more prospects of settlement than when the miners walked off their jobs. The union and the mine operators have not even passed the first hurdle towards the solution of their differences. The pinch of the coal shortage is growing tighter with every passing hour and a complete collapse of the nation's economic program is imminent.

The shortage of electrical power generated from coal is rapidly becoming serious. Steel mills will be forced to shut down before long because of depleted fuel supply. The worst effect of the coal shortage, however, is the threatened tieup of America's rail transportation system, which will become all but complete within another month.

All of this is occurring at a time when the greatest need of the country is unskilled production. To an alarming degree the United States finds itself almost totally at the mercy of Labor Boss John L. Lewis, whose past record shows rather conclusively that he is little concerned with the welfare of the nation when his own interests are at stake.

The United States government boldly interceded to crack down on Caesar Petrillo, the boss of the musicians' union, when Petrillo acted beyond the public interest in carrying on his union activities. Despite all his vicious demands, Petrillo never represented the threat to the nation that Lewis does today in trying to force exorbitant demands for his coal mine union. It would be a sad nation without music, but it is a much sadder nation without coal.

U. S. Neglects Parks

INDICATIONS are that a record-breaking number of persons will want to visit Isle Royale this summer. At least, reservations and inquiries show an increased amount of interest in the wilderness park in Lake Superior.

But Isle Royale national park is woefully unprepared to handle much tourist business. Hotel facilities are confined to those at Rock Harbor, where accommodations are limited to about eighty guests. Then, too, Isle Royale is still without adequate transportation facilities. Vacationists who want to visit the island will have to travel in small motor cruisers from the Copper Country.

Isle Royale's predicament is similar to that in which Yellowstone and other national parks find themselves. During the war, no improvements were made to the properties and maintenance work was permitted to drop below normal requirements. Although it was long ago recognized that postwar travel would boom, little has been done to put the national parks in shape since the ending of hostilities. The postwar needs of the National Park Service should receive the attention of Congress if the national parks are to offer attractive and adequate facilities to tourists.

Reds Balk Again

THE proposal by Secretary of State Byrnes at the conference of foreign ministers that Allied occupation forces in Austria be substantially reduced immediately is a prelude to settlement of the Italian peace treaty problem and it is unfortunate that Soviet Minister Molotov has declined to recognize the proposal in that light.

American troops in Austria are now supplied through Italy. It is inconceivable that the United States will withdraw its troops from Italy as long as American troops are stationed in Austria. Occupation of the two territories are closely interwoven, at least insofar as the American position in those lands are concerned. For that reason, the Russian attitude that the Australian problem cannot be discussed until after the peace treaty with Italy is settled is wrong and leads to suspicion that the Soviet union is seeking to weaken the United States position in Italy.

The proposal advanced by Secretary Byrnes is a reasonable one. Allied occupation forces in Austria would be sharply reduced immediately and when the troops are later withdrawn from Italy, then occupation armies in Austria would be simultaneously withdrawn.

Traffic at Straits

DURING the first three months of the year, the state highway department ferries transported 22,126 cars across the Straits of Mackinac, this represented a 17.6 increase above the 1941 traffic during the corresponding period, which set an all-time record.

The figures can be accepted as an indication that summer traffic at the Straits of Mackinac also will set an all-time record. It means that we are headed for a bumper tourist harvest, which will tax the hotels, overnight cabins and resorts to the utmost.

Unfortunately, resorts will have their problems in handling the large volume of vacation business. The meat shortage continues, and this presents a real dilemma for vacationists expect to be well fed. Some resorts also report difficulties in getting trained help. There are other headaches for the resort operator, but eventually the wrinkles should iron themselves out.

A Real Emergency

AN increasing amount of contemplated construction work on homes, businesses and public buildings is being postponed because of high costs. Older buildings will be called upon to serve longer than anticipated. This means that the danger of fire will increase. Improvisation and overcrowding, together with obsolescence, are breeders of fire hazards.

An illustration of the way the trend is working can be seen in the schools. Thousands of communities need new schools. But so many communities are discouraging their construction. Next fall school rooms will be crowded more than ever before. It is imperative that every precaution be taken against fire in these structures. Extinguishing equipment should be the best available and fire drills should become more than an exciting break in class routine. The seriousness of the danger should be impressed upon faculty and students alike.

Homes are much like the schools. Millions of them are old and overcrowded. The tragedy of death in the home from fire, stalks the front pages of the press day after day. Usually the victims are helpless children. Again it should be emphasized that fire prevention on a scale never attempted before is absolutely imperative. The annual fire loss bill for the nation is climbing higher at a time when property is nearly impossible to replace.

If every person will do his part in these critical days of shortage and frustrated building hopes, the crisis will pass with a minimum of death and destruction by fire. If every person does not do his part, the immediate future will be the blackest chapter in our history of fire waste.

VANDENBERG FOR BRITISH LOAN (Milwaukee Journal)

Senator Vandenberg urges his colleagues to support without amendment the proposed loan to Britain of $3,750,000,000. Vandenberg says that this was the most perplexing problem he has had to decide in 18 years in the senate. Reminding his fellow senators that "these are not the pre-Pearl-Harbor days which are gone forever," he explains that he reached "the reluctant but firm conviction" the loan should be authorized "for the sake of America."

It is heartening to note the growth of this Michigan senator. For years he had a record of piloting skillfully a middle of the road course. He was the great compromiser. Now he takes his place as a statesman who understands the needs of his time. His consciousness that new world problems have come to stay and that henceforth this nation must undertake its full share was evident at the San Francisco conference; it has been exhibited a score of times since then.

Just as the time came when no thoughtful American could be isolationist, or even neutral, so we have come to a day when there can be no middle of the road about taking our place in the world—"for the sake of America," her defense and her future.

PRICES AND COMPETITION

(Fort Wayne News-Sentinel)

If the top-level union leaders are as smart as we think they are, they know as well as anyone that industry is not going to fix its prices any higher than competition allows. In a free economy such as we have in the United States competition is the most powerful of all balancing weights when prices tend to become too high.

If it were possible for the three largest manufacturers, say, of electrical appliances, to conspire in violation of the anti-trust laws, and agree on extremely high prices and a resultant high margin of profit it would be only a matter of months until a fourth competitor, anxious for a slice of their business, would be invading their field, underselling them.

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—If any proof were needed of the way in which the world is tied together, it could be found in this business of coal. The coal strike is pinching not merely this nation alone. Its shattering effects are being felt around the world.

To begin with, coal is directly related to Europe's hunger. Grain shipped to countries on the borderline of famine is no good if the mills cannot operate to grind it into flour.

CBS last week did a remarkable broadcast on hunger round the world. From Rome, Charles Shaw reported:

"The American coal strike depresses Italians. Additional coal is badly needed here to operate flour mills and bakeries, without which imported grain is worthless. Coal also is needed to operate factories and provide Italians with means with which to buy food."

Italy is an UNRAA country. That is on the relief level. Equally serious is the effect that dwindling coal supplies will have on those European countries which are buying supplies to try to restore their industry.

—SERIOUS IN FRANCE—

France is a perfect example. Members of Leon Blum's loan mission to this country brought confidential figures showing what the world crisis in coal meant to France.

These figures show that production today in France is approximately 70 per cent of the 1938 level. They show, too, that the only remaining bottleneck is coal. The economists and experts who accompanied Blum are convinced that, if France could get a million tons more coal a month, production could be increased well above the '38 level and the French would be well along the road to recovery.

Before the war, France consumed 69,000,000 tons a year. Of this, she produced 47,000,000 tons. Coal production inside France today is at the pre-war rate or even above it. But before the war, France was dependent upon 22,000,000 tons of imports. For the first quarter of this year, she got only an average of 900,000 tons a month from outside her borders. It is important to note where this coal came from.

From Germany came 330,000 tons, from Britain 100,000, and the United States 470,000 tons of low-grade coal. Shipments from this country held up in April, but they will be cut in half for May if the strike continues a few days longer.

It is Germany's coal that is the danger spot in the world coal picture.

The French are indignant that such a large share of German production from the Ruhr mines should be going to Germany. Since the Ruhr mines are in the British zone, their indignation is aimed chiefly at the British.

The confidential figures of German production are very revealing. They show that, in January, coal production in the American, British and French zones was just under 5,500,000 tons. Of this total, 1,200,000 tons were exported and, of that amount, 370,000 went to France. Thus, Germany was left with more than 4,000,000 tons. In addition, the Germans had enough lignite or brown coal to make the equivalent of another million tons.

Why, the French demand, should their industrial recovery be held back in order to give the Germans so much more coal than they are getting. American officials are inclined to be sympathetic with this viewpoint.

On the other hand, the commanders in the German occupation zones are primarily concerned with stability inside Germany.

The British are in a particularly difficult position. Coal production in Britain has been dropping steadily downward ever since the end of the war, in spite of constant appeals by the labor government to the coal miners. The workers grumble that the prospect of nationalization has brought no improvement in their lot.

The fact is that Britain's coal mines are operated with outmoded machinery and by methods long since abandoned in this country. Miners must work in shafts only 4 feet high. It is an industry that has long been coasting downhill.

Coal is the key to the recovery of Western Europe. For the moment, American coal is the key. And John L. Lewis, the man with the key in his pocket, shows a stony unconcern for the fate of the world.

From G. L. C., Beaver, Pennsylvania: I hear good speakers pronounce Asia and Persia as "AY-zhuh" and "Per-zhuh." I was taught to say "AY-shuh" and "PER-shuh," and that only the uninformed used the "zh" sound.

Answer: In present-day America, the "zh" sound strongly prevails. Of the seven accepted American dictionaries in my library, two list "zh" as the only American choice, and two list "zh" as the second choice. Only one list "sh" as the only choice.

The Pot and the Kettle

Good Morning!

By The Bugler

"COW TIME"—This business of going 'r' fast time has a complicating effect on operating a farm, according to some of our Delta county friends. For one thing, it means that early-morning farm chores start at a very early hour.

Members of the county board of supervisors who operate farms mentioned this recently at a meeting of the board. They said that now that the clocks are advanced one hour, they must 'get up before daylight' to get their chores done in time to drive in long distance and arrive at the court house in time for a 10 a. m. meeting.

Whether it was Supervisor Harry Greene, Omer Tanguay, Harold Gustafson or Fred Holmes who told the following story has been forgotten by the Bugler, but the story was told during one of the recent recess periods of a recent board meeting.

The story goes that after the clocks were set ahead a county farmer went out to the barn, fumbled around with the milking stool in the dim morning light and prepared for the daily chore. He had no sooner started than the cow looked around questioning and said, "Say, what do you think you think you're pulling at this hour of the morning?"

ANNUAL VISITOR—In the recent month of April a visitor returned to the G. L. Kieser home, Ford River road, for the third successive year. It is a flying squirrel that comes gliding down from the trees to a feeding station for birds located just outside the kitchen window. The Kiesers would like to have a picture of the squirrel eating, but it usually arrives between 9 and 10 p. m. at unannounced dates. Therefore they are content to take a look and let the picture go.

AIRPLANE TRAPPING—Jim Ostrander, resort owner on Manistique lake near Curtis, had a novel way of surveying the area before setting beaver traps early last month, reports the Michigan department of conservation.

Ostrander made use of his army air force training when he rented a small plane at the Manistique airport, cruised his beaver trapping territory before the season opened to locate beaver ponds and houses established while he was in service.

From the air it was easy for him to spot ponds he did not know existed, and many miles of hard travel were saved when he was able to go directly to them after coming down from the reconnaissance flight. Ostrander told conservation officers at Newberry. With competition for trapping territory very keen, the use of the plane gave him a chance at out-of-way ponds not known to other trappers.

FOR POISON IVY—The attention of this column has been directed to another "cure" for poison ivy, following a dissertation on poison ivy recently presented. In that column it was stated there were 208 "cures." Now there are 209.

The new cure, if it may be so called, is mentioned by Dr. Ivor Griffith, president and director of research of the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science.

Griffith believes there is "a new day" dawning in preventative and curative medicine, heralded by the discovery of penicillin by Sir Alexander Fleming. This, he says, is the beginning of a "great botanical renaissance."

Bryonia, echinacea, lobelia, senega, phytolacca, rhubarb, squill and drugs of similar nature are commanding the attention of researchers seeking the light with respect to electric plant principles, he adds. Ephedrin, the chaulmoogra esters, wormseed and oldseed again are being used widely in administering to human ailments.

John M. Hewitt, former sheriff of Schoolcraft county, is the first candidate to publicly announce himself as a candidate for county office in the elections coming this fall. He will seek the Republican nomination for the office of sheriff.

20 Years Ago—1926

William Allen White of Emporia, Kas., probably America's best known newspaper editor and a novelist and essayist of wide distinction, took the time recently to write a personnel letter to an Escanaba girl, who had written to him "on a dare."

Chief of Police and Mrs. John J. Tolani will celebrate their 44th wedding anniversary at their home, 1214 Eighth avenue south, today when a family reunion will be held.

City Manager T. F. Kessler yesterday corrected a half-century old error by filing a new assessor's plat of blocks 12 and 13 of the original city of Escanaba, vacated by a court order about 1870 and never legally recorded afterward.

Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Carson are the parents of a son, Jack L. Faver, born at St. Francis hospital.

The Associated Press quotes Dr. Griffith thus:

"When will science tell us, for example, why equistum (horse's tail plant) apparently relieves the symptoms of certain types of diabetic ailments, or why fresh impatiens juice seemingly alleviates suffering from the poison of oak or ivy?"

So if you need a remedy for poison ivy this summer, just locate yourself a little "fresh impatiens juice" and don't be "impatient" if you can't find any.

GRANDMOTHER'S HERBS—Dr. Griffith says that in her day grandmother utilized many herbs in her crude curative methods, believing in the Biblical declaration that the green things that grow shall be a balm for aches and pains.

"So truly as the Peruvia bark has furnished the specific to dread malaria—and the white poppy of India its soporific juice—equally true is it that there are millions of useful plant antidotes awaiting proper scientific appraisal," Dr. Griffith declares.

He adds that the revival of botanical medicine "points with certainty to a more widespread use of drug products from nature's children—the ebhoronville plants and their lowest vegetable relatives, such as the molds—in the business of healing humanity's sores."

THE NEW DAY—Fletcher D. Griffith believes there is "a new day" dawning in preventative and curative medicine, heralded by the discovery of penicillin by Sir Alexander Fleming. This, he says, is the beginning of a "great botanical renaissance."

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—Here are two unpleasant but inescapable facts regarding the food shortage. They must be kept in mind if the Anglo-American nations are to alleviate worldwide starvation.

1. Only by careful skimping on the part of housewives, hotels and restaurants, can the United States fulfill its good promises. There just isn't enough grain and oil to go round—unless we pull in our belts.

2. U. S. officials aren't saying much, but they weren't happy over English and Canadian cooperation—or lack of cooperation—in allocating their grain surplus to Europe.

British slowness, however, is considered no excuse for American failure to meet commitments; so U. S. officials will continue their all-out efforts. However, here is what we are up against: Wheat on hand in this country as of January 1 totalled 689,000,000 bushels. Of this, the January-June use of wheat will be 70,000,000 bushels for feed, 23,000,000 for seed, 150,000,000 bushels for carryover, leaving almost 450,000,000 bushels for human consumption and export.

Agriculture Secretary Clinton Anderson's recent flour curtailment order will probably reduce human consumption in this country to about 260,000,000 bushels, leaving less than 200,000,000 bushels for export.

Against that, we have a commitment of 225,000,000 bushels to be shipped before the end of June. In other words, unless there is great individual saving there just won't be enough wheat to go round.

—FAT FAMINE—

The same thing is also true of fats and oils. We just won't have them on hand for export unless every housewife is more frugal than ever. Here is the line-up: On April 1, stocks of butter totalled only 14,964,000 lbs. against 29,833,000 last year.

Cottonseed oil totalled 1,492,900 lbs. against 1,756,400 last year.

Lard totalled 81,435,000 lbs. against 49,728,000 lbs. last year and 403,151,000 two years ago.

Actually the fat picture is worse than most people realize and the Russians are faced with such a serious shortage that they have gone to the Argentine and are bidding against us for linseed oil. Ordinarily we buy the Argentine linseed crop for paint. The Russians will use it for human consumption, however, and are willing to bid high.

—BRISTLE WHEAT RESERVE—

U. S. agricultural officials don't say much about it, but they have been griped at the British. Secretary Anderson held up his flour-milling cut for about three weeks waiting for the British to agree to ship some of their 1,000,000-ton wheat surplus to the famine-stricken continent. Normally 1,000,000 tons is not a large surplus for the British but U. S. officials argued that in the present emergency this could be sent to Europe, with a saving of valuable time and shipping, while we got more wheat to the Atlantic seaboard.

Then with the new summer wheat crop coming in, we would replenish British reserves.

Finally London came through with an offer of only 200,000 tons, providing the United States and Canada replaced it without too much delay.

Secretary Anderson also was disappointed when the Canadians matched our 25 per cent cut with a promise of only 2,500,000 bushels of wheat plus 5,000,000 bushels of oats.

Note—Canada has about one-eleventh the population of the USA and about one-third our wheat crop, though she has been exporting heavily to England.

—POLITICS IN THE DESERT—

The wide-open spaces of New Mexico are about to see the most turbulent political fight in years—with three colorful figures battling for the U. S. Senate.

Governor Jack Dempsey (no relation to the boxer) who jumped from Brooklyn subway brakeman to New Mexican politician, has finally decided to enter the race. He will oppose Senator Dennis Chavez in the Democratic primaries.

Whoever wins will then have to cross swords with grandstanding Patrick J. Hurley, ex-secretary of war, ex-ambassador to China, and the man who breathed fire down the back of the state department regarding allegedly "pink" diplomats. In the end, the senate made Hurley look a trifle red in the face himself.

A former Oklahoma lawyer, Hurley has been itching to get back into politics, and about two years ago took up residence in New Mexico with that in view. That state long has been considered a happy hunting ground for disappointed politicians who lost out back east.

Jack Dempsey, though of Brooklyn origin, has been successfully graying through New Mexican politics for two decades. He was lone congressman from New Mexico, later under secretary of the interior, then governor. During this time he built up his own machine; and he will need it to buck Senator Chavez who, as author of the fair employment practices act, has endeared himself to Spanish residents of New Mexico.

Note—Chavez also has hit the all-time high for putting relatives on the government pay-roll.

Price control has been removed from all Christmas decorations. Why did they have to remind us of that?

Police of an Ohio town dumped several slot machines in a river. They're much better bait for the fish on land.

When people say they have no bad habits they're too good to be true.

Q. Did Prime Minister Churchill lay the blame for Japan's entrance into the war on Emperor Hirohito, or on Premier Tojo?

A. In his speech to Congress, the Prime Minister said: "We know that for many years past the policy of Japan has been dominated by secret sects or societies and junior officers of the army and navy, who have enforced their will upon successive cabinets and Parliament by the assassination of any Japanese statesman who opposed, or who did not sufficiently further their aggressive policies. It maybe that these societies, dazzled and dizzy with their dreams of aggression and the prospect of easy victory, have forced their country into war against its better judgment."

New Equipment At City Steam Plant To Eliminate Most Of Soot Nuisance

Improvements being made now and others which should be completed in the municipal steam plant before next winter will virtually eliminate the soot and smoke nuisance the plant has caused, according to Leonard C. Ward, new plant superintendent.

That's an old story, some of the Ludington street merchants and others located near the plant, will probably say, but the fact is that most of the new equipment, which will help eliminate the dirt, has been on order for months but strikes and other difficulties have made its delivery impossible.

Stokers Inefficient

Most of the dirt is caused by the inefficiency of the type of stokers now in use at the plant. These blow the coal into the furnaces by air jet, the excess air cools the furnace gases and prevents complete combustion of many particles. These particles are carried into the air by the high velocity stack. With the type of stokers in use the soot remover—highly efficient in itself—cannot do the job expected of it.

The excess air has already been reduced to some extent but consulting engineers at the plant this week said that completely satisfactory and efficient operation would not be achieved until the new equipment is in use.

After a study of conditions by city engineers, the following corrective action was decided upon:

New Stokers—A factory erector will begin installation of a new type stoker on Monday. This stoker has an entirely different principle of operation that eliminates excess air difficulties. Coal is spread on the grate mechanically instead of pneumatically as with the present equipment.

Purchased in October, 1945, delivery of all components of the stoker is not complete but under pressure from city officials, the manufacturer has agreed to install it, using certain equipment available here. He pointed out, however, that full efficiency cannot be realized until his tuft-type grates and forced-draft fan (now unavailable because of strike-bound sub-contractors) are installed.

Automatic Combustion Controls—With increased load caused by demands of new customers, the time has come in the normal development of the steam plant, to install automatic controls which are essential for efficient combustion. This decision was reached months ago and these devices are now on hand. Installation by the technicians of the stoker company will be complete next week.

The combustion controls will assure automatic and coordinated control of the important operations in efficient firing which are coal feed, undergrate air damper and stack damper. Now operated manually, coordination of these factors is difficult under the fluctuating loads experienced in district heating.

New Type Cinder Remover—Guaranteed by its manufacturer to remove 94 percent of fly ash, a new remover has arrived and will be installed as soon as light summer loads allow a brief shutdown of the plant.

By means of multiple helical baffles this device imparts a violent spiral motion to the stack gas. Cinders, fly ash and smoke particles are thrown outward through narrow slots into a collecting hopper. The remover will eventually pay for itself as these combustible particles are continuously re-injected into a high temperature area of the furnace.

Tall Stack—On the design boards now is a stack, approaching 100 feet in height, which will replace the mechanically operated stub stack now in use. A tall chimney alleviates the smoke problem in three ways: because of larger cross sectional area and a natural circulation, the velocity of the stack gases is reduced to a minimum and large particles cannot be carried or supported. During the long upward travel, remaining particles have an opportunity to move to the slower moving gases near the chimney wall and settle out into a collecting chamber at the base of the stack. Microscopically small smoke particles remaining are ejected into the higher velocity winds at the top of the stack and the majority of them are carried miles beyond the city limits.

Construction of the stack has been given priority over other work and is expected to begin in mid-summer.

Should Solve Problem

"Any one of these four major items would contribute markedly to the removal of this problem," Ward says. "All of them together should be a satisfactory solution."

Other steps are planned to assure control of smoke nuisance and to provide the efficient operation the public has the right to expect of a municipal utility. These are further training of fireman operators and the provision of sufficient meters, observation and indicating devices to enable the fireman to operate the boilers properly.

Embarrassing Situation

"The situation is embarrassing to the utility because one of its prime long range objectives is the promotion of better community health and appearance through clearing the air of dust and smoke particles irritating to the throat and lungs."

"It should be pointed out," Ward added, "that because of the steam heating utility over 80 smoking chimneys in the Ludington street area are dead. By next fall 25 more smoke makers will cease to operate. These include the majority of the large chimneys in the city."

Need Of Applying Price Controls Is Re-emphasized Here

The need for renewed vigor in application of price control regulations was re-emphasized by Clyde Buchanan, supervisor of the Office of Price Administration in this area, at a meeting of price panel members of the Delta county price control board held at that office this week.

Ed Packenham, price control board chairman, called the meeting at the request of the area supervisor.

Buchanan pointed out that the Michigan district was filing comparatively fewer price panel settlements than any other district in the third region (Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky). This was true, he said, despite the fact that Michigan comprised one of the largest OPA districts in the entire country.

Packenham urged the price panel members to bear in mind that the price control act is "still the law of the land and so long as it is, the panel members were duty-bound to pass judgment on ceiling violators with as much rigor in the future as they have in the past."

"Negotiations by the city with the railroad and a downtown laundry indicate that these two large smoke producers will some day purchase city steam."

The plant superintendent said that there will still be brief periods of smoke ejection during cleaning of fires. The large 35,000 pounds per hour boiler, recently purchased, was specifically ordered with dump grates to remove this objection.

"It would be unfair," he said, "to those who have been penalized by the panels, if we relax our attitude toward the cases coming up for hearing now." He further urged all consumers to check ceiling prices more carefully than ever before and pointed out that the price panels were in a large measure dependent upon buyers' complaints of over-ceiling charges to put the teeth in the price control law and thereby hold prices down.

Less Than Half Of City's Bike Owners Have '46 Licenses

Less than half of the bicycles licensed here last year have new tags, Sgt. Phil Bruce, city traffic officer, said yesterday. Old licenses expired May 1. A total of 1,460 licenses were issued in 1945 but only 680 bike owners have secured new plates so far this year. The bicycle licenses cost twenty-five cents and may be secured at the police station any time. Owners should bring their bike titles with them when buying the permits.

Residential And Commercial Building Well Under Way In Escanaba

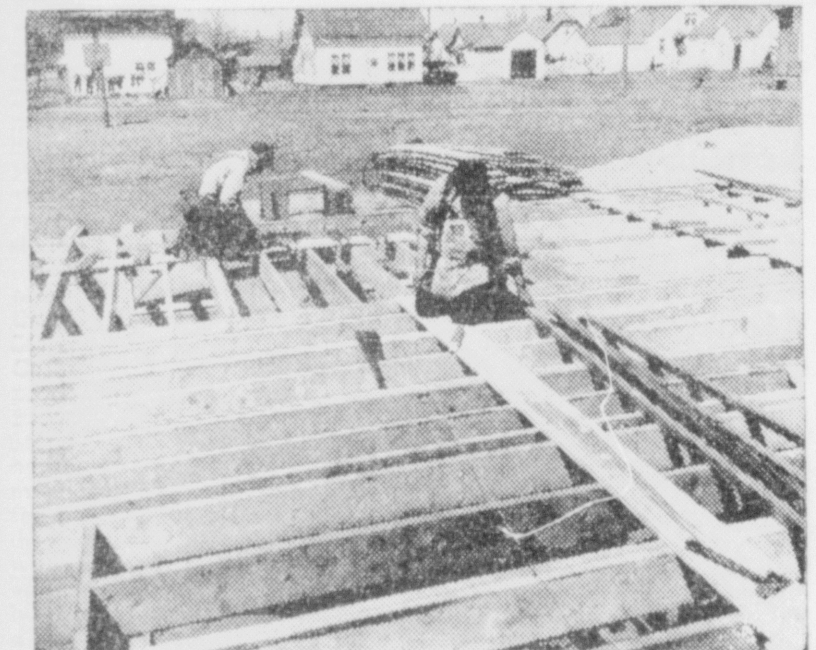

FOUR ROOM HOME—Louie Flath is working on the scaffold of a house being built by Peter Aspness at the corner of 19th street and Ninth avenue south. The home will have four rooms and bath, with a two-car garage.

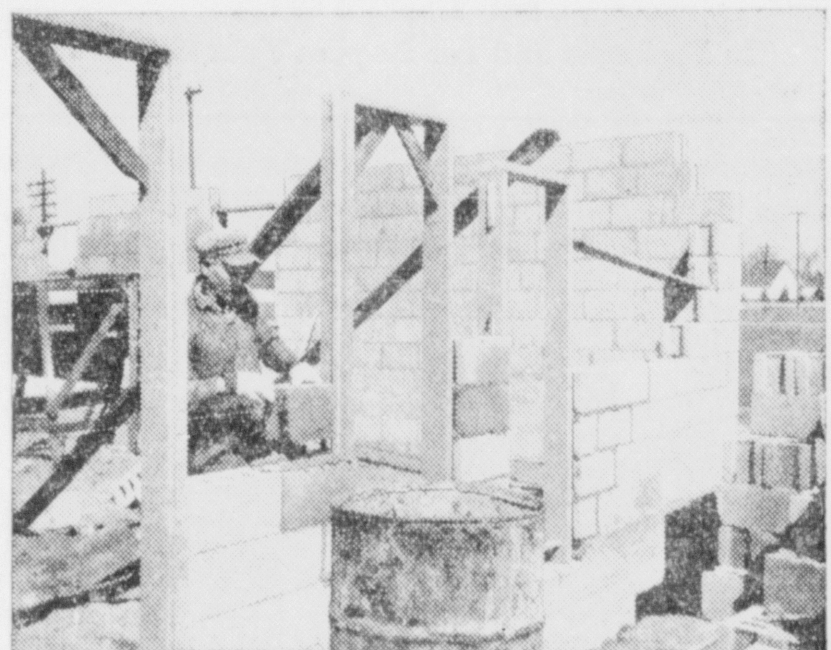

QUONSET HUT CAFE—Attracting much attention from passers-by is the Quonset hut which is being erected at 1309 Ludington street. Tim Curran will open a lunch room in the wartime housing unit, which is to be utilized for peacetime commercial use. The building is 20 by 60 feet.

STORE BUILDING—Escanaba's main street has received a face lifting with the use of face brick on the building at 1300 Ludington street, where Marcel Lafleur operated a hotel and saloon for many years. The property has been extensively remodeled in the interior, and will be used by the owner, Herbert Flath, as the sales room, offices and repair shop of his electrical appliance business.

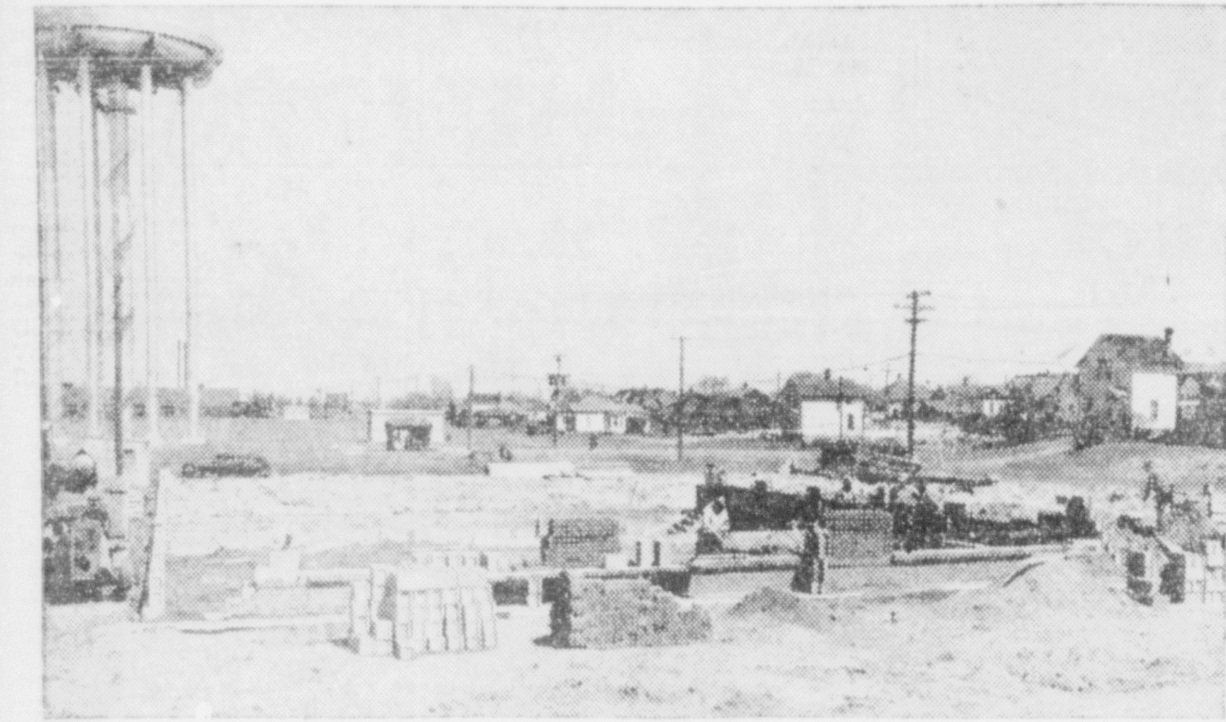

JAMES RAY HOME—Leslie Roos and Albin Roos are shown at work building a five-room home for James Ray on South 16th street. Despite the shortage of materials, many Escanaba families are building foundations and doing other preliminary work, hopeful that scarce items will be made available in due time.

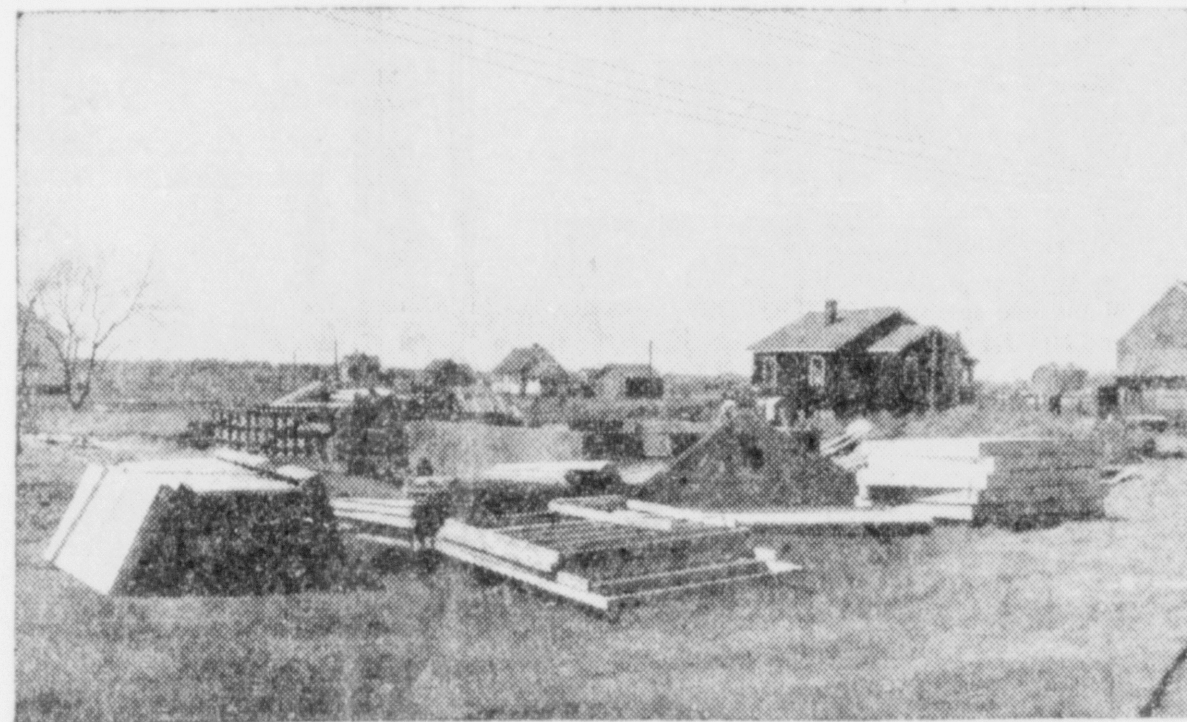

CARPENTER SHOP—Olaf Olson and Albin Lauson are building a carpenter shop for themselves on 23rd street. The building will be 32 by 56 feet. Most of the construction work is being done by the two owners. Lauson is shown above.

AUTO STATION—A garage and gasoline service station are being built by Bero brothers at 23rd street and Third avenue north. Willard Bero, who is laying the cement blocks, is shown mixing the mortar.

ANOTHER GARAGE—Work has started on the garage and showroom of the garage and automobile showroom for Odes Fleetwood of Spalding at Ludington and 21st street. This is the largest building under construction within the Escanaba city limits. The over-all length is 140 feet, and will consist of shop space, 60 by 100 feet, and a showroom and parts department, 60 by 80 feet.

PREFABRICATED HOUSING—Foundations are being put in for two prefabricated homes, being built for John Fauri by Arthur Bolm, contractor. The prefabs are going up on Eighth avenue south, at 18th street. Sections of the prefabricated walls and floors are shown lying in the foreground. The two houses are the first "prefabs" to be erected here.

RED OWL STORE SHARES PROFITS

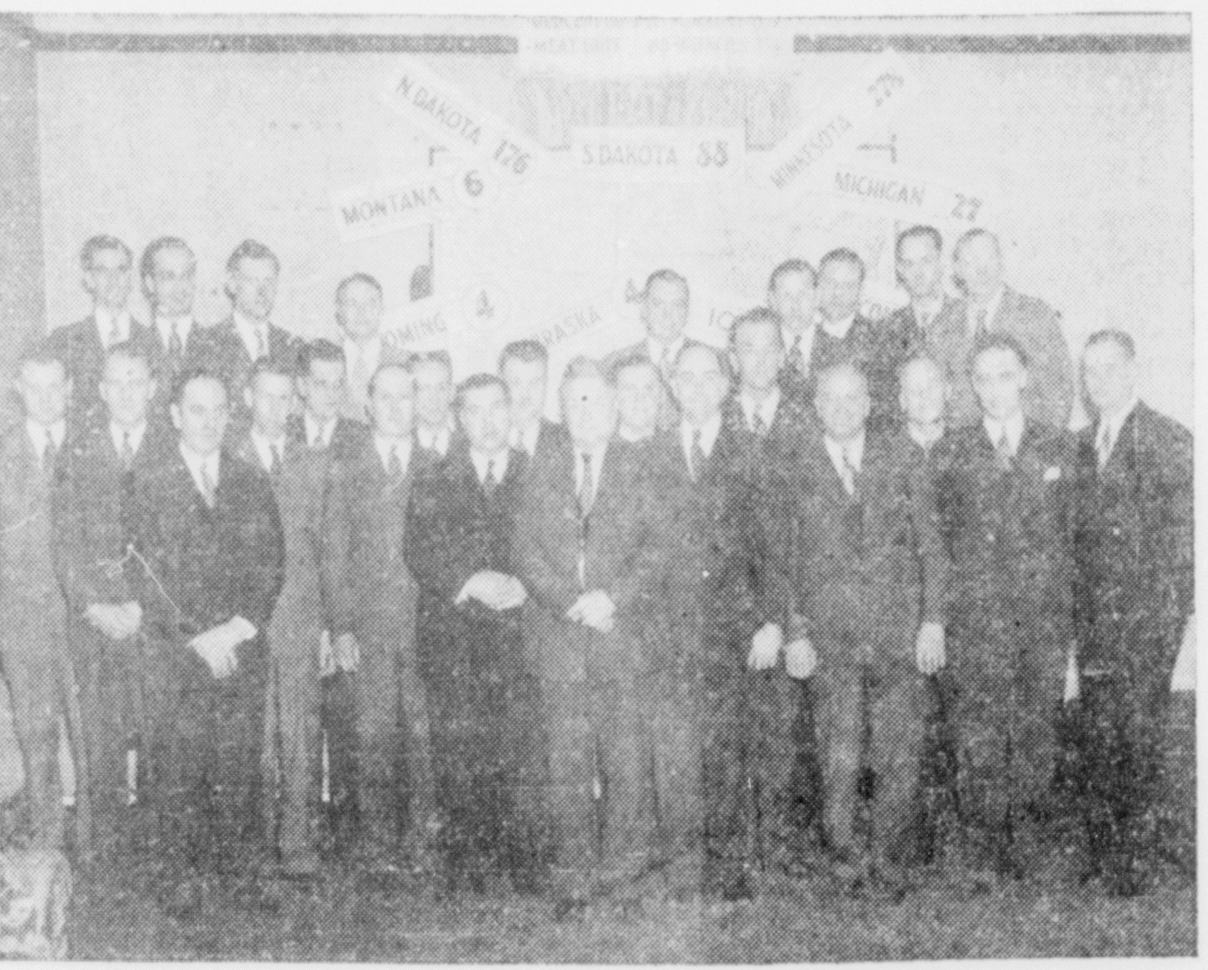

Plan Is Explained To Managers At Meeting Here

Details of a profit-sharing plan, which became effective May 1, were outlined for 26 meat and grocery managers of Red Owl Stores, Eastern Division, at the Delta Hotel in Escanaba on Wednesday. The managers were from Escanaba, Iron Mountain, Norway, Powers, Stephenson, Niagara, Marinette, Menominee, Iron River, Gwinn, Marquette and Gladstone.

John Y. Dear, Green Bay, Wis., president and general manager of the Eastern division of Red Owl Stores, comprising the former Cashway chain, discussed the profit sharing plan as outlined by Ford Bell, president of Red Owl Stores, Inc. Under it, managers in both meat and grocery departments will share more directly in the profits of the stores in which they are located. Managers still will receive a guaranteed salary and commission, as in the past, but, in addition, they will receive a greater share in the profits of their individual units. New employment contracts are now being prepared for all store and market managers and will become effective immediately.

"The policy of Red Owl stores for years has been to share its earnings with the managers, on a bonus basis," the president's statement said. "Henceforth, each manager will share in the profits on a compensatory basis, and will, in effect, become a partner in the store under his management."

Store and market operations were discussed by members of the field and office executive staff of the Eastern division at Green Bay. Speakers, in addition to the president, included R. J. First Ore Loaded At Superior Docks

Superior, Wis.—(AP)—C. D. Hooker, superintendent of the Great Northern Railway, said that a shipment of 180 cars of iron ore had arrived at the Great Northern docks this morning, and that the first ship of the season was expected to clear the docks Thursday.

Hooker said that by this time last year 2,000,000 tons of ore had been shipped out of Superior. He said the late ore season was due to the mine strikes and added that lake navigation had been affected by the coal strike.

Hooker said a heavy shipping season was expected after the strikes were settled and as soon as production and distribution would get under way. He said the Great Northern system had called several hundred men back to work today.

In 1950, the world's sugar production was only 1,500,000 tons.

His Wit Faster Than The Eye

Helena, Mont. (AP)—The county attorney demanded at a coroner's inquest that a witness be explicit in describing a bar room shooting.

"Did you actually see this man shoot the victim?" the prosecutor asked.

"I saw the gun flash, heard the report and saw the man fall," replied the witness, and added somewhat apologetically, "but I can't say I saw the bullet travel."

Dan Coffey Pays $100 Fine For Use Of Illegal Nets

Daniel F. Coffey Jr., of Menominee was fined $100 and ordered to pay costs of prosecution following his conviction in Menominee justice court on a charge of violation of the commercial fishing laws. Arrest in the case was at the instigation of Captain Allers of the Michigan Conservation Patrol boat No. 1.

The patrol boat cruising in the area near the Michigan-Wisconsin state line on Wednesday picked up 11 boxes of gill nets of from 2 1/4 to 2 1/2 inch mesh, some of which are illegal in Michigan waters because of size. They were marked as the property of Coffey and if intended to be used legally would presumably have been set for the taking of herring. When the nets were lifted they were found to contain 40 pounds of herring, 30 pounds of perch (on which the season is not open) and 494 undersized lake trout weighing 316 pounds.

TECH TO BUILD NEW BUILDINGS

Physical Training And Heating Plants Included

Houghton, Mich.—Michigan College of Mining and Technology officials today announced detailed plans for the three new buildings approved by the legislature in February.

The new physical training building, to cost approximately $450,000 will include a 120x90 foot gymnasium floor, swimming pool, ample locker space, and the usual offices, training rooms and supply room. It will provide facilities for basketball, volleyball, handball, tennis, badminton, gymnastics, boxing and wrestling.

It will be situated east of Douglass Houghton Residence Hall and 200 feet north of U. S. Highway 41.

Engineers Field, to the rear of the building, will be enlarged and part of the running track relocated.

The college will also build a new central heating plant. The present one, used for the past quarter-century, can handle little if any additional load. The arrangement, and the type and size of boiler units, make any further expansion impractical.

A new modern-type steam-generating plant will therefore be constructed. Estimated cost is about $465,000. It will provide sufficient capacity to handle the present and projected future campus load.

The legislature also voted approximately $30,000 for a radiations laboratory. This will house the college's $50,000 million-volt x-ray machine and all other high-voltage radiographic equipment of 200 KVP and upward.

Plans call for erecting the laboratory east of McNair Hall, headquarters of the metallurgical engineering and mineral dressing departments.

The laboratory will be connected to this main building by a three story structure 12x15 feet in plane surface, containing a corridor plus circular staircase. The ground floor will house the control room, the next floor the dark room, and the third floor a transformer room. To protect personnel access to McNair Hall will be from the first floor only.

The radiation's laboratory itself will be about 38 feet square. Walls, mazes, and separating partitions facing the laboratory will

A number of rural schools in certain parts of Schoolcraft county will close for the spring vacation on May 17, Mrs. Ada Watson, county school commissioner announces. These are the schools in Doyle, Seney and Germfask townships.

This early closing, Mrs. Watson states, was made possible by cutting short the Christmas vacation which usually lasts almost two weeks, according to the day on which Christmas comes.

Girl Scouts Urged To Register Now For Their Outing At Timber Trail

Girl Scout members who are planning on an outing this summer at Timber Trail, the summer camp maintained by Girl Scout organizations in five different cities in the area, should file their applications at once if they wish to secure accommodations at periods convenient to them, says Mrs. Ken Van Eyck, a committee member from Manistique.

Many Manistique Girl Scouts have registered and the number is increasing fast, says Mrs. Van Eyck, and it is therefore important that those who wish to attend the camp at a definite period should make their reservations at once.

Among the local girls who have already registered for a one week stay are: Jeanette Norton, Betty Swanson, Elizabeth Nylander, Marlene Smith, Sally Stewart, Roberta Nelson, Sandra White,

IMPROVE LOCAL DAIRY HERDS

Pure Bred Sires Being Introduced In County

Improvement in the dairy herds of Schoolcraft county has been made evident through the recent purchase, through the local county agent, of seven pure bred dairy sires and a number of well bred heifers.

These animals were procured for local dairy farmers by George McIntyre, extension dairy specialist, who recently made a buying trip in Wisconsin dairy centers.

Farmers who are interested in getting a pure bred bull should not wait any longer, but should place their orders immediately with the county agent, says Mr. Heiman. These orders must be in by May 8. After that date, any orders that come in will be rather difficult to fill as the agent will have to correspond with different breeders in order to find the animals desired.

All orders, says the county agent, will be bought on a buying trip by McIntyre and the animals will be trucked to Upper Michigan and disbursed in different counties where the orders are placed. Several orders have been placed by local dairy farmers, but there is no limit to the orders that may be taken, says Heiman. Practically all dairy breeds are available and the farmer is sure of having his order filled if it is placed before the May 8 deadline.

Farmers desiring heifer calves may also place their orders, but in this respect the number of animals available is limited. These orders may be placed at the county agent's office in Manistique.

Gorsche Issues Call For City Band Practice

Ferd Gorsche, leader of the Manistique band, announces that that organization will hold practices regularly at the old gymnasium every Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The band is assuming a lot of extra responsibility this season, says Gorsche, and he is very anxious that all of these practice meetings be well attended.

The band, which is under the sponsorship of the local post of the American Legion, will be called upon at the Legion convention to not only represent Manistique in the parade line of march, but will also be on the job with official greeters and pinch hit in those innumerable occasions when the services of a band will be needed during the four days of the convention.

There have been calls to practice before this, says Gorsche, but the turnouts have been discouragingly small. "From now on it's business," he warns.

Elks Reviving Dinner And Dance

For the first time in five years the Manistique Elks lodge is reviving that popular feature known as "The Elks Dinner Dance" when a 7:30 o'clock dinner will be followed by an evening of dancing at the club rooms Saturday.

The party, which will be exclusively for Elks and their ladies, while an important event on the lodge's social calendar, will not be formal. Matters of dress will be strictly optional with those who attend, says the committee. Ivan Kabasic's Orchestra, of Escanaba, will provide music in the modern manner. There will be favors for the ladies.

FEWER WATER FOWL THIS FALL

Dry Spring Hampers Rearing Says Game Refuge Manager

"Ducks Unlimited," a slogan used by various sportsmen's organizations in co-operation with the government, is far too optimistic a phrase when talking of this year's duck hunting prospects, C. S. Johnson, superintendent of the Seney Wild Life Refuge, told his hearers at the regular meeting of the Lions club Tuesday evening.

Weather conditions this spring have been unusually unfavorable for the raising of water fowl, says Mr. Johnson. The low water stage in many marsh areas where geese and ducks raise their young hampered the feeding grounds and have given predators easier access to their nests.

Other factors contributing to the dwindling duck population, he said, was the increase, rather than decrease of hunters during the war. And now, with the number of hunters augmented by the thousands of returned veterans, the prospect of ducks unlimited will be a totally erroneous one unless restrictive measures are resorted to.

Mr. Johnson gave this information in the course of a talk concerning the Seney Refuge. Ducks and geese, which have made the refuge their home in seasons past, are returning in great numbers and the crop of wild rice from that area, in which the water stage is kept at a constant level, will be as usual.

He concluded his talk with the showing of lantern slides showing how the work is carried on.

Tips for Farmers

Are you one of those home gardeners who likes to be first in your neighborhood with some produce? Here is a tip on how you can get a head-start on a juicy red-cored watermelon or a golden mellow muskmelon.

These are warm season crops, and all the danger of frost must be gone before they are set outside. So, seed them indoors anytime now. Fill flower pots, plant bands or even strawberry boxes with a good mixture of sandy loam soil. Dust the seed with a copper oxide or mercuric dust to control disease. Plant about six melon seeds in each container and place them in a warm location.

If the containers are kept moist the plants will soon break through; then they need plenty of sunlight. When large enough, thin to three units in a container.

After May 20—or when all danger of frost is past, dig holes three to five feet apart in the garden for muskmelon and six to eight feet apart for watermelons. Dig the holes 12 to 15 inches deep and fill half full of well-rotted manure, work in soil and set the plants. If plant bands or strawberry boxes are used, set the entire container and break down the sides so the roots will grow out. If pots are used, remove the plants carefully, saving the soil. Place hot caps over plants until about the first week in June to avoid a possible late frost.

Keep the plants dusted with rotenone to control the bugs and beetles and you are on the way to a melon crop. Recommended varieties are Honey Rock or Heart of Gold as cantaloupe varieties and Dixie Queen, Northern Sweet or Honey Cream for watermelons for Michigan gardeners.

Tie Up Your Dogs For The Summer Says Police Chief

From now until September 30 dogs must be tied up or confined to their owners' premises, says Police Chief Roy Anderson.

There is an ordinance on the city's statutes, says Chief Anderson, calling for such restrictions on canines during the summer season and he states that the ordinance is going to be strictly enforced.

The ordinance stipulates that those who permit dogs to roam at large shall be deemed guilty of violating the city statute and shall be subject to a fine or imprisonment or both.

Bomber Looks Like Giant Boomerang

Hawthorne, Calif.—The new Flying Wing bomber and cargo plane, that looks like a giant boomerang, is ready to fly. It is all wings; no tail and no familiar fish-shaped body.

Two broad wings, joined at their bases, form a wide spread V. Four pusher propellers are within the angle of the wings. A few "bubbles" on the upper surface house defensive armament in the bomber version.

The nose of the plane is the joint junction of the wings. The four engines are carried toward the rear of the wings in submerged housings which do not protrude from the surface. Crew and cargo are carried within the broad thick wings themselves.

The Flying Wing is the nearest approach to an airplane consisting only of a pure supporting surface. Almost every portion of it contributes to lift in return for the drag it causes. Lift, the raising force on wings of an airplane, enables it to fly, and the more lift it has, the better able it is to carry loads.

The aim of aircraft designers has always been to obtain more lift and less drag. In the conventional plane only the wings contribute to lift; the fuselage, engine housings, tail and all other extraneous parts create drag.

This new plane, the successor of several experimental models, will be known as the Northrop Flying Wing or the Army XB-35. It was built here by Northrop Aircraft, Inc., for the Army as a giant bomber. However, it can be easily converted into a cargo ship, and some day may become a familiar commercial cargo-carrier.

Flash Fire Destroys 23 Young Racers At Arlington Park Barn

HORSES WORTH $500,000 LOST

Highest - Priced Victim Bought For $46,000; Only Six Saved

BY JERRY LISKA
Chicago, May 2 (AP)—The costliest fire in turf history, a "flash blaze" which destroyed 23 young thoroughbreds valued at $500,000, rocked the Maine Chance Farm of Mrs. Elizabeth Graham on the eve of her bid for glory in Saturday's Kentucky Derby.

Six racers, including Beaugay, leading two-year-old filly of 1945, were all that emerged safely from a raging fire which swept the only occupied barn at Arlington Park race track at nearby Arlington Heights early today.

In the smoldering ruins of the razed barn were the scorched carcasses of many of the best two-year-olds money could buy. Several investigations, one by the Illinois Racing Commission, were under way.

Purchased Last Year
Highest-priced victim was Blue Fantasy, a non-starter for which Mrs. Graham, noted cosmetics manufacturer, paid a season-top price of $46,000 at last year's Keeneland, Ky., yearling sale. Blue Fantasy, twice rescued from the flames, was critically burned and had to be destroyed.

Horses which perished in the flames were such expensive two-year-old purchases as Gay Emperor and Fire Gold, $41,000 each; Star of Night, $42,000; Admiral General, $33,000; and O'Clipper, $30,000.

Other track fires claimed larger tolls, but none destroyed a greater investment in horse-flesh.

Other horses lost included Gracious Me, Chance Mascot, Soft Answer, Rosario, War Comet, Big Miracle, Sunny Brue, Slim Jim, Gay Beau, Pink Palm Palm, Samson, Pink Rose, White Lace, Blue Angel, Super Lassie, The Bat and Sugar Lea. With exception of the three-year-old Sugar Lea, the destroyed animals all were two-year-olds.

Led to safety besides Beaugay were War Date, Jean Miracle, Nightlife, Harvey's Pal and Excitement One. Two stable ponies also perished in the flames which track officials said originated in an unoccupied groom's room.

Three Derby Entries
At Louisville, agent for Mrs. Graham said the destroyed horses all were insured and that the famed beautician planned to enter three horses in the derby including the favored Lord Boswell, Knock Down and Perfect Baham. Other Maine Chance horses stable at Louisville include Star Pilot, Colony Boy, War Pippin, Pure Gold and Clover Leaf.

Gilbert Jones, night watchman for the Maine Chance Farms, reported he smelled smoke while making his rounds. Checking the sleeping rooms, he opened the door to one he said was unoccupied.

"The flames just shot out at me," declared Jones, who sounded the alarm and with 18 stable hands started removing the terrified horses. Jones first rushed out Beaugay "because she's my favorite."

Track Director B. F. Lindheimer in a statement asserted "Special fire and police protection are a most important part of our operations" and said it was impossible to check the flames "because of the explosive nature" of the fire.

He said the track had planned full fire-proofing of the stable area, but was unable to do so because of "restrictions and shortages" of materials.

TWO TEAMS TANGLE

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

The Escanaba Softball association voted Wednesday night to revise its admission schedule for games at the lighted field from 12c to 10c, with a nickel charge for children. The 12c fee, adopted at a previous meeting, brought a chorus of disapproval from soft-ball fans who disliked the idea of handling the odd pennies. The 12c charge was based upon an established admission price of 12c, plus 2c federal tax. Until the cyclone fence is installed at the lighted field, however, there will be no established admission price and receipts will consist only of free will contributions.

DODGERS TAKE OVER TOP SPOT

Veterans Help Brooks Defeat Cubs In Eighth, 3-2

Chicago, May 2 (AP)—Brooklyn moved into undisputed possession of first place in the National League today by defeating the Chicago Cubs 3-2 at the St. Louis Cardinals were losing to the New York Giants.

A pair of Dodger veterans, infielder Billy Herman and pitcher Art (Red) Herring, collaborated to give the Brooks the victory. Herman, appearing as a pinch hitter in the eighth inning, singled in Pete Reiser and Dixie Walker to account for the tying and winning runs.

GIANTS LAY JINX
St. Louis, May 2 (AP)—The New York Giants not only had the satisfaction of knocking the St. Louis Cardinals out of first place today, but also beat back an old nemesis, Harry (The Cat) Brecheen when they blasted him off the hill in the ninth inning to defeat the Redbirds 5-1.

Deadlocked at 1-1, the Giants drove Brecheen to cover with a four-run barrage, resulting from singles by Sid Gordon, Buddy Kerr, Billy Ripken and Johnny Reiz interspersed by two glaring Redbird errors.

It was the first time the New Yorkers had beaten Brecheen since he entered the National League in 1943. During his three years with the Cards, Brecheen had whipped the Giants six times.

Lefty Dave Kozlo held the Redbirds to four hits to register his initial mound triumph of the season.

FIVE RUNS IN SECOND
Pittsburgh, May 2 (AP)—A big five-run second inning, sparked by triples off the bats of Hank Cammell and Bob Elliott, gave the Pittsburgh Pirates an 8 to 3 win today over Philadelphia Phils in the rubber match of a three-game home series. A crowd of 4,061, including 603 ladies, saw the game.

The Bucs used only two hits for their five-run frame. But Oscar Judd's two walks, another by Hugh Mulcahy and Jim Tabor's wild throw gave the Corsairs all the help they needed.

Fred Ostermueller settled down after a shaky start and held the Phils to five hits in the last seven innings.

Philadelphia 020 100 000—3 9 2

Softball managers wrangled for some time Wednesday night over a proposal to establish a one-hour time limit on games at the lighted field but the motion lost when the count showed an even division pro and con. The idea was designed to permit three games nightly at the lighted field—7, 8 and 9 p. m. No limit would be started after 55 minutes of play but any inning started before that time would be completed. An exception would be tied games which would continue until a decision is reached. In general only the slowly played games would fail to run their full course of seven innings and the tendency would be to speed up all games.

By playing three games at the lighted field, only one additional diamond would be required for league games. Under the setup finally adopted, two games will be played each night at the lighted field, and single games will be played at Royce Park (No. 4 diamond), So. 19th street, and at the Webster diamond, North Escanaba. Some improvement on the outfield is required at Webster playground but otherwise the diamond is one of the best in the city. Neither No. 1 nor No. 2 diamonds will be used for league play this year. In fact, part of No. 2 diamond has been sold by the city and is now in private ownership.

Apparently the reluctance of managers to adopt the one hour time limit proposal was predicated to some extent upon uncertainty of the effect that new rules changes will have on the speed of softball games. Softball teams this season will have only nine players instead of ten, the roving fielder being eliminated. Also bases have been shortened to 55 feet and batters hit by pitched balls will receive free transportation to first base. The result should be more scoring and probably longer games.

The old timers baseball league has not been organized but three teams are already entered. As soon as a fourth team is secured, the old timers league will adopt its playing rules and plan its schedule. Ten teams are entered in the American league, which is the city's fastest circuit, and six have received franchises in the National league. The leagues appear better balanced than they have been for several years and prospects for a highly interesting season are extremely bright.

HARRIS WINNER IN PIN TOURNAMENT

Cops Singles Event In Bowling Meet With 668 Score

N. Harris, the last bowler to roll in the Escanaba city bowling tournament, grabbed first prize money in the singles division with a 668 score, wedding Bob Sjoberg into second place with 666.

The only other change in the standings as a result of the final night's barrage was effected by Peltier and T. Irish who tallied 1233 to tie for seventh place in the doubles.

Harris made a stirring finish to eke out first place honors in the singles. He rolled 180 in the opening game, plus 21 pins handicap, followed with 193 plus 21 pins for a 415 total going into the last game. He slapped the pins for a whopping 232 count in the final game and his 21 pin handicap gave him 253 for his count.

Winners in the doubles event were O. Larson and B. Puckelwartz with 1306 and the Lions team won the five-man event with 3085.

HOMER DEFEATS TIGERS, 5 TO 4

Detroit Ties Score In Eighth; Winning Blow Comes In Tenth

Boston, May 2 (AP)—Ailing Ted Williams, who is fighting off a threatened sinus attack, drove a 10th inning homer into the right field bull pen today to give the Boston Red Sox a 5-4 win over the Detroit Tigers and stretch his top-league forces' current winning streak to seven-straight games.

The splendid splinter had flied out three times and rolled harmlessly to first base before he opened Boston's side of the extra session by blasting out his second four-bagger of the season. No. 1 was his still talked-about long-distance climb in the 1946 opening game in Washington.

The championship Tigers, who had dropped their previous two starts here in rather lop-sided fashion, appeared to be well tamed by Starter Tex Hughson, until he suddenly lost his stuff in the eighth.

A three-run homer by Hal Wagner in the second, plus Bobby Doerr's double and two singles in the sixth, all against Virgil Trucks enabled Hughson to coast along with a 4-0 lead until the eighth.

Then the supposedly subdued Tigers became savage. They snarled and slashed at Hughson and while sending 10 to bat, including a pinch-hitter for a pinch-hitter, led the score on four singles and three passes, the last of which forced in the equalizing center.

Hughson then gave way to Clem Dreisewerd and that south-paw muzzled the Tigers' growls by forcing Jimmmy Outlaw to foul out to Rudy York. Outlaw was up for Ansel Moore, who had started the rally by singling while batting for Trucks.

Tommy Bridges then set six Soxers down in order before Williams, who had disregarded advice to take a sickbed, poled out his game-winning with two strikes against him.

16 TEAMS IN CITY LEAGUES

Softball Season Will Open In Escanaba Monday

The softball league season will open in Escanaba Monday evening, May 6, launching what most observers believe will be a banner year for the sport here. Ten teams have signed up for the American league, which will be the top circuit in the city, and six have entered in the National league. An old timers league will be organized within the next several days.

Teams entered in the American league are St. Ann C.Y.O., Birds Eye, White Birch, Buck Inn, Paper Mill, Granada Gardens, Lar-may's, Peoples Hotel, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Liberty Loans. National league entries are North Town Hawks, Bethany, Knights of Columbus, Lieuhung's Music Store, Dagenais Grocers and St. Joseph.

Drawings for the opening round pairings were made by team managers Wednesday night with the following results: St. Ann vs. Birds Eye, White Birch vs. Buck Inn, Paper Mill vs. Granada, Lar-may's vs. Peoples, VFW vs. Liberty Loans in the American league and Hawks vs. Bethany, K. of C. vs. Lieuhung's, and Dagenais vs. St. Joseph in the National league.

The date and sites for the opening round games will be announced in Sunday's issue of the Press, along with umpire assignments.

Teams will play twice a week and softball association officials have reported that all teams in the two leagues will get an equal opportunity to play league games at the lighted diamond. Other diamonds to be used for league play are Royce Park and Webster playground. Several trees in the outfield area at Webster playground will be removed before the opening of the league play.

The diamond has not been used by local softball association for league games in previous years, but has been extensively used for recreation department leagues in the city.

ONE INNING ENOUGH

New York, May 2 (AP)—One inning was all the New York Yankees needed today to defeat the Cleveland Indians. Highlighted by Nick Etten's grand slam home run, the Bronx Bombers slammed Lefty Vic Johnson and Tommy Ferrier for eight runs in the big fourth frame to gain their second straight over the Tribe 8-2 and take the series two games to one.

Spurgeon (Spud) Chandler, though tagged for nine hits, the most he has allowed this season, gained his sixth victory without a defeat to take the lead among the pitchers.

Name Emil Larsen Veterans' Contact Man In This Area

Emil Larsen of Escanaba, formerly of Iron Mountain, has been named contact man in this area for the Veterans' Administration contact office in the post office building at Escanaba, it was announced yesterday.

Larsen received his honorable discharge from the U. S. Army

Jan. 18, following five and one-half years of service. He served for 18 months in the European theater of war, was wounded, and at the time of his separation from service held the rank of major. His wife is the former Gayle Kelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Kelly of Escanaba.

It will be Larsen's job as contact man for the Veterans' Administration to confer with war veterans in Gladstone, Manistique, Iron Mountain, Iron River and other communities in the area. For the present he will meet the veterans at contact centers for veterans already established in the communities.

Although a definite schedule of dates and times for his itinerary has not yet been worked out, he will start next week and will be in the following cities on the following days:

Monday — Manistique; Tuesday afternoon — Gladstone; Wednesday — Iron Mountain; Thursday — Iron River.

GIANTS ARE RARE

Although giant octopuses do exist, usually far out at sea, the body of those species most commonly encountered by man seldom exceeds the span of a human hand, with tentacles less than one foot long.
